

Join IPA in Queenstown

8-10 November 2017

Capacity, Creativity and Ageing in Clinical Practice

Faculty of Psychiatry of Old Age
2017 FPOA CONFERENCE

Pre-conference Workshops: Imaging & Biomarkers
Capacity
Management of BPSD
Late Life Mood Disorders

Join IPA in Queenstown!

In conjunction with the Royal Australian & New Zealand College of Psychiatrists 2017 FPOA Conference, IPA will hold Pre-Conference Workshops on 8 November 2017 at the Millennium Hotel, Queenstown NZ.

Management of BPSD

- Prof Wendy Moyle: Technologies & Their Role in Managing BPSD
- Dr Cindy Jones: Management of Sexually Inappropriate Behaviors
- Dr Margaret MacAndrew: Development of a Behavioral Intervention
- Prof Elizabeth Beattie: BPSD Measurement & Interpretation

Are you a clinician (in particular a nurse or allied health professional), or researcher interested in Behavioural and Psychological Symptoms of Dementia (BPSD)? Are you challenged in how to manage the symptoms of dementia using a person-centered approach? Then this workshop is designed with you in mind and in particular if you work in nursing home or sub-acute aged care.

The workshop facilitators will engage you in discussion and information on how to define and measure BPSD in clinical practice and research, how to manage symptoms such as wandering and sexually inappropriate behaviours, and how to use robots and technologies to comfort and reduce agitation in people with dementia. Workshop participants will also have an opportunity to “try” a robot within the workshop environment.

Participants can bring challenging case studies on BPSD they wish to discuss or they can send to the facilitators in advance of the meeting so that the facilitators can prepare a response for the workshop. Please forward at least two weeks prior to the meeting to <w.moyle@griffith.edu.au>.

The presenters are social scientists, all highly recognized for their research and practice and the facilitators include two internationally recognized nurse scientists specializing in BPSD.

Visit ipa-online.org for more information on the 2017 FPOA Conference & Workshops